WELCOME TO GLADSTONES.

Named in honour of Dr. John Gladstones, AO, a true pioneer of Western Australian viticulture, we celebrate his vision and passion for exceptional wines.

Our mission is simple: to share our love of Western Australian wines. From the sun-drenched hills of the Swan Valley to the soothing maritime climate of Margaret River, and the cool, pristine sites of the Great Southern, each region offers something unique and extraordinary.

While Western Australia remains at the heart of our story, this list also embraces outstanding wines from across Australia and beyond, offering a broader journey through some of the finest vineyards worldwide. Alongside WA's celebrated regions, you'll discover iconic labels from other Australian heartlands and exceptional international producers, sitting harmoniously beside vibrant new releases from rising stars. Whatever your taste, there is something here to inspire and delight every palate.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA'S WINE REGIONS

Western Australia's wine regions are as diverse as the landscapes they occupy, offering a remarkable range of climates, terroirs, and varietals. The historic Swan Valley, Australia's second-oldest wine region, began in 1829 and remained WA's sole wine region for 125 years. Uniquely positioned just 25 minutes from Perth, it continues to thrive with sun-drenched hills ideal for heat-loving varietals.

Further south, the Geographe region stands out for its diversity, with over three dozen varietals planted across Harvey, Capel, and Ferguson Valley. This variety reflects the region's dynamic character and ability to produce wines of distinctive style. Pemberton and Great Southern add to this richness with dramatic contrasts—from rugged coastlines to towering timber forests. Their cool climates and isolation yield wines that express the pristine, ancient environments from which they originate.

Finally, Margaret River has become synonymous with world-class wine. When Dr. John Gladstones identified its potential in 1966, few could have predicted its rise. The first vines at Vasse Felix marked the beginning of a region celebrated for elegant wines shaped by a gentle climate and the moderating influence of the Indian Ocean. Today, Margaret River remains a benchmark for structure, vitality, and grace.

RIESLING

Riesling is one of Australia's most revered white varieties, with legendary expressions from Clare and Eden Valleys in South Australia setting the benchmark for decades. For Western Australia, particularly the Great Southern region, Riesling is quietly building its own legacy — one defined by ethos, passion, and the cool-climate sites it calls home. West Australian Riesling tends to be dry, racy, and citrus-driven, with palates featuring stunning lime, green apple, and prominent minerality, underpinned by crisp acidity and a long, clean finish.

CHENIN BLANC

Chenin Blanc has deep roots in Western Australia, first flourishing in the historic Swan Valley and now finding a vibrant new home in Margaret River. Celebrated for its remarkable versatility, this varietal can be crisp and refreshing, richly textured, or elegantly sweet, depending on the winemaker's vision. Its bright acidity and layered fruit make it a perfect canvas for innovation, while its ability to age gracefully adds prestige. From lively, youthful expressions to complex, cellar-worthy styles, Chenin Blanc showcases the diversity and dynamism of Western Australian wine.

CHARDONNAY

Chardonnay may be Australia's most celebrated white, but Western Australia delivers a style defined by bold power and laser-like precision. From Margaret River's maritime influence to ancient soils and unique clones, these wines combine concentrated citrus and stone fruit with commanding structure and a mineral edge. Subtle oak frames their intensity, while modern techniques — wild ferments, minimal intervention — add depth and complexity. WA Chardonnay is not just refined; it's confident and expressive, built to impress in its youth yet capable of evolving into a powerhouse of layered sophistication.

RARER WHITE VARIETALS

Beyond the classics, Western Australia celebrates a vibrant tapestry of alternate white varieties, offering a fresh, contemporary dimension to its wine story. Grapes like Fiano, Vermentino, and Grüner Veltliner thrive in our diverse landscapes, from coastal breezes to inland warmth, crafting wines that are zesty, textural, and effortlessly food-friendly. Fiano brings citrus spice and a waxy richness; Vermentino offers a saline lift with herbal crunch; Grüner Veltliner delivers white pepper, orchard fruit, and mineral precision. These distinctive styles embody innovation and elegance — a modern expression of Western Australia's dynamic viticulture.

ROSÉ

Rosé has evolved into one of Australia's most dynamic and expressive styles, and Western Australia is leading the charge with wines of striking vibrancy and precision. Crafted from varietals like Grenache, Shiraz, Tempranillo, and Pinot Noir, WA Rosé delivers bold fruit purity, layered texture, and a dry, mineral-driven finish. These are not afterthought wines — they are confident, complex, and built for versatility, pairing effortlessly with shared plates or standing proud on their own. From pale, Provençal-inspired elegance to deeper, more structured styles, WA Rosé reflects the region's energy and modern sophistication.

PINOT NOIR

Long considered the domain of Victoria and Tasmania, Pinot Noir is emerging as Western Australia's quiet powerhouse. In the elevated zones of Great Southern and Pemberton, cool nights, warm days, and extended ripening seasons forge wines with precision and depth. WA Pinot delivers vibrant red cherry, earthy forest floor, and a whisper of spice, framed by silky tannins and a savoury edge. Winemakers embrace site expression and gentle handling, crafting Pinots that are not just elegant but assertive — wines that stand proudly among Australia's finest, proving WA's versatility and bold ambition.

GRENACHE & BLENDS

Grenache is in the midst of a thrilling revival, and Western Australia is carving its own distinctive chapter in that story. Thriving in the warm, sun-soaked vineyards of the Swan Valley and select sites in Great Southern, WA Grenache delivers intensity with finesse. Expect a rush of vibrant raspberry, lifted florals, and exotic spice, all wrapped in supple texture and a fine-boned structure. These wines balance juicy generosity with natural freshness, offering a modern, confident expression of a classic variety — proof that Grenache is not just back, but boldly redefining WA's red wine landscape.

GAMAY

Gamay is enjoying a quiet but compelling renaissance, and Western Australia is emerging as an exciting new voice in its evolution. Flourishing in the cooler pockets of the Great Southern and select higher-altitude sites, WA Gamay champions purity, perfume, and poise. Expect bright bursts of red cherry and wild strawberry, hints of violet and forest spice, and a silky, feather-light texture carried by vibrant natural acidity. These wines are irresistibly drinkable yet finely detailed, balancing freshness with subtle depth.

SYRAH / SHIRAZ

Shiraz may be Australia's most iconic red, but in Western Australia it reveals a strikingly different character — powerful yet precise. Cooler sites, leaner soils, and a philosophy of restraint shape wines that trade sheer weight for layered complexity. In Great Southern, Shiraz is vibrant and spicy, with black pepper, red berries, and fine tannins, echoing the elegance of the Northern Rhône. Margaret River brings darker fruit, structure, and savoury depth, tempered by maritime breezes and gravelly soils. Even the historic Swan Valley delivers richness and old-vine intensity. WA Shiraz is bold, distinctive, and redefining what this classic grape can be.

SPANISH & PORTUGUESE VARIETALS

Spanish red varieties like Tempranillo are gaining ground in Western Australia. These varietals are often fond of warmer inland regions where their natural resilience appeals to winemakers, and which let their savoury characteristics shine. Tempranillo offers a compelling alternative to traditional reds — medium-bodied, earthy, and food-friendly, with notes of cherry, spice, and dried herbs.

ITALIAN VARIETALS

Italian reds are carving an exciting niche in Western Australia, with Nebbiolo, Sangiovese, and Barbera thriving in regions blessed with warm days, cool nights, and diverse soils. These varieties bring a distinctive savoury edge, vibrant acidity, and food-friendly structure, adding depth and intrigue to WA's red wine landscape. Winemakers embrace their versatility and resilience, crafting wines that are aromatic, energetic, and full of character. From Nebbiolo's firm tannins and haunting complexity to Sangiovese's cherry-spice lift and Barbera's juicy charm, these styles deliver a bold, modern interpretation of Italian tradition — confident, expressive, and unmistakably Western Australian.

CABERNET & BLENDS

Cabernet Sauvignon stands as one of the world's great noble varieties, and in Western Australia it reaches a pinnacle of power and precision. Margaret River has earned its reputation as the benchmark for modern Australian Cabernet, shaped by a maritime climate, gravelly loam soils, and a long, even growing season. These wines are commanding yet refined — blackcurrant, bay leaf, and cedar layered over fine tannins and vibrant acidity, built for both immediate allure and decades of evolution. In Great Southern, cooler sites craft a more aromatic, medium-bodied expression, offering a distinctive counterpoint to Margaret River's bold, structured style. WA Cabernet is confident, age-worthy, and undeniably world-class.

MALBEC

Once a quiet contributor to blends, Malbec is now commanding attention as a standalone star in Western Australia. Thriving in warmer regions like Margaret River and the Swan District, it delivers deep, inky colour, plush fruit, and velvety tannins with undeniable presence. WA Malbec bursts with blackberry, plum, and violet, layered with cocoa and a hint of spice, striking a balance between opulence and freshness. While it still plays a vital role in Bordeaux-style blends, adding depth and mid-palate richness, Malbec's solo expressions showcase bold character and cellar-worthy potential — a grape redefining its place in WA's red wine story.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN SPIRITS

RAINFALL VODKA AUSTRALIAN RAIN 30ML | 40% — 18.5

Rainfall Vodka is crafted in Western Australia's Southern Forests, using pure captured rainwater to create a spirit that is exceptionally clean, smooth and reflective of its environment.

GINIVERSITY GIN BOTANICAL 30ML | 40% — 18.5

Crafted in Western Australia with native botanicals and regionally inspired ingredients, it reflects the same attention to detail and sense of place that defines Western Australian's wines. Just as WA wines are known for their balance and purity, Giniversity delivers a bright, aromatic profile with a refined, contemporary finish.

LIMEBURNERS SINGLE MALT WHISKY PORT CASK 30ML | 43% — 26

Limeburners Port Cask is crafted in WA's Great Southern region from local barley, then finished in port wine casks that once held fortified grape wines. These casks impart rich notes of dark fruit, spice and sweetness, creating a natural bridge between whisky and wine traditions.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN BEER

LITTLE CREATURE PALE ALE 330ML BTL | 5.2% — 15.5

Little Creatures Pale Ale is a true icon of Western Australia's craft beer scene, born in Fremantle and driven by a passion for flavour and craftsmanship. Brewed with whole hop flowers and premium malt, it delivers bright citrus aromas, balanced bitterness and a clean, refreshing finish.
